

2005 February Fitness Challenge

Congratulations to everyone that participated in the 2005 February Fitness Challenge! February is finally over. Luckily it wasn't another leap year.

Indy Swim Fit placed first this year in the large team category with 42 swimmers and first for the most number of yards swum by a team with 2,376,370 yards. That is double the number of swimmers they had last year. The second place team is Rochester ORCA Masters Team with 30 swimmers. The third place award goes to the Wildcat Masters with 23 swimmers. They beat BAM by only one swimmer.

Four records were broken this year and one was purposely tied. Three of the records were by swimmers who broke records in the same age group as last year. The first was Jim McConica of Ventura County Masters who set a new record in the men's 50-54 age bracket with 616,000 yards, which is 88,000 more yards than the record he set last year, and 176,000 yards more than the record he set in 2003. Jim is also the swimmer with the most yards for this year's challenge. The second is Vince Herring who broke the record he previously held in the men's 60-64 age bracket with 427,725 yards. Third is Gene Crossett of Pacific Northwest Aquatics who set a new record for men 90 plus with 41,250 yards. He was the first person to set a record in this age group last year.

Jewell Grigsby-Martin broke the record she set in 2004 in the women's 70-74 age bracket with 601,650 yards. That is almost 72,000 yards than she swam last year. She also holds the record in the women's 65-69 age bracket. She says she will only swim twice a day next year, but we'll see.

And finally, Ian Redpath tied the record for the men's 80-84 age bracket. His brother Harry, who passed away earlier, is the co-record holder for this age group. We would like to dedicate this year's February Fitness Challenge to Harry Redpath who regularly participated in the February Fitness Challenge. His brother Ian was kind enough to write to us with information about his brother and we've included his letter in the results booklet. He had an amazing life, and swimming was a big part of it.

You may remember Linda Bamford who wrote to us last year about her experience breaking into the world of masters swimming. She swam over 270,000 yards last year. This year however, she is suffering from an injury and made a goal of 5% of her previous yardage. The results tend to highlight the people that swim an extraordinary amount of yards during the month, but really it is about people who love to swim. Goals can be anything from swimming a certain distance during the month, counting splashes, swimming for two to stay healthy during pregnancy, getting back into shape, training for the English Channel, or to swim a certain distance on a certain day. Linda Bamford could have forgotten about this year's challenge after what she accomplished last year, but she chose to set a new goal for her current circumstance and see what happened. One swimmer's molehill is another swimmer's mountain.

Here is the letter than Ian Redpath wrote to us about his brother Harry.

For several years I've participated in your February Fitness Challenge and managed to gain extra yardage each year and due to the death of my elder brother, Harry, I thought to pass on a little family history in the hope it might prove inspirational to some of your supporters.

Following a water skiing mishap, where a boat propeller severed my right leg above the knee and caused compound fractures and nerve losses of the left leg, my doctor recommended that swimming was the way to go as soon as I was released from the hospital. So, many months later, I started the clumsy and often painful art of trying to swim again. Whenever I tried freestyle I turned "turtle" and for several weeks did backstroke which at least gave me buoyancy and a feel of the water. However by persevering, I eventually managed freestyle and kept adding a lap a week until I now do at least 5 kilometers per day and have proven my good doctor's advice for a healthy life-style. I never considered competing even though I knew my brother, Harry loved competing.

Harry was a good swimmer and frequently asked me to join his club and finally due to his persistence, I became a member of the Queensland Southside Masters in order for me to compete in the longer events where the legs do not play such a major part as with the sprints. So, over the last few years I've done the USMS 5K/10K and the British & Oceania 1 hour events.

In all of these competitions, I've had 1st and 2^{nds} but I really prefer your Fitness Challenge because it brings out your best efforts over a substantial period, and it's great to see your progress compared with previous years as well as those of other competitors.

Brother Harry has your record of 181,000 yards in the 80 to 84 age category, but unfortunately he passed away recently and as he was a veteran of the 2nd World War, I'd like to give you a brief outline of his services and his motivation.

At the start of the war in 1939, Harry did his military training with the Australian 11th Battalion and upon the Japanese entering the war, he transferred to the Air Force, training under the "Empire Air Training Scheme", becoming proficient for the duties of Wireless Air Gunner in Vickers Armstrong Wellington Bombers. Harry was later transferred to 150 Squadron RAF 205 Group which was based in Southern Italy. On April 4th, 1944 his plane was shot down in air operations over Budapest by a German night fighter and his aircraft crashed into Lake Balaton. His pilot was killed and Harry suffered shrapnel wounds and lost the sight in one eye. He was transferred to a prisoner of war hospital, then to Gulag Luft near Frankfurt and finally to Stalag Luft VII at Bankau, now situated in Poland.

In January 1945 all the prisoners were marched from Poland into Germany to avoid the advancing Russian Army. In that forced march, during the then coldest winter experienced in Europe, many prisoners lost their lives and Harry later recounted there was an overwhelming desire to just lie on the snow and die, however his indomitable will drove him on.,

In spring 1945 he was liberated at Luckenwald, 50 kilometers from Berlin, by the advancing Russian Army and hence back to Australia where he took up swimming again.

Although Harry competed in most events, he preferred the longer mileages and told me he thought your February Fitness Challenge was one of the best.

Born out of brotherly love and my deep respect for his many achievements, I am hoping his name continues to appear as the 80-84 record holder at 181,000 yards. Having turned 80 last year, you will see that I've ensured that my exact yardage for the 2005 Challenge is also 181,000 yards with the idea that Harry and I jointly share this honor. On the other hand, if some other earns this distinction, then so be it, because one of the main benefits of your competition is to bring out the best efforts of each of us.

In any event, the message that Harry and I want to leave is that swimming is the best exercise for its aerobic, muscular and skeletal conditioning and it's important to make it a daily regime.

Being human, I occasionally wake up on a cold morning, perhaps when the biorhythms are low, thinking its warm and comfortable in bed so "lets forget to swim", however I've conditioned my brain to obey my routine and always feel much better for having done it.

As with diets, I've seen many friends start out on their swimming campaign fully enthusiastic, however most seem to drop by the wayside usually with some half baked excuse.

Brother Harry was the essence of persistence and after the war competed in the Yarra River 3 mile swim which he repeatedly won. The Yarra River runs through Melbourne - Victoria and was a regular event until the river became polluted. This annual swim was transferred to the Melbourne City Baths 50 meter pool where Harry once again led the way with many wins.

His consistency has rubbed off on me and I'm grateful that he led me to the Queensland Southside Masters where I've not only enjoyed the fellowship of kindred souls, but also relished the competitions. Bruce Hopson, event director of the 2004 UMMS 5K/10K informed me this month that in the 75-79 age group, I won the 5K & 10K events which gave me a big lift. In January 2004 I've won gold in the British & the Oceania 1 hour events and this January I achieved 105 meters better than last year. I think this proves that you only get better with age if you adopt the right philosophy. I compliment the splendid efforts of the Executive of the Tualatin Hills Barracudas for persisting with this excellent Fitness Challenge which brings much health and happiness to swimmers all over the world.

Best wishes and cheers from Australia

Ian Redpath Queensland Southside Masters, Australia co-record holder age 80-84

Thank you again for hosting the Fitness Challenge. It was a very tough month. I was able to reach my goal of 616,000 yards (350 miles). Most of my sets were 2000s on something less than the 1:20 base. My longest day included two workouts totally 25,800 yards. My toughest set was 22 x 1000 on 13:00. I was able to hold 1:14 to 1:14+ on the first 21 and raced the last one holding 1:09+. It was pretty amazing how poorly I felt every day, but yet could still swim for hours. That was the same in prior years. In 2003 I completed 250 miles. In 2004 my total was 300 miles. This year was 350 miles. Next year I may cheer on my teammates.

My goal in 2004 was 600,000 yards. However, on the first day of the challenge I sustained an eye injury, which negated my swimming three times a day for four days and not being allowed in the water for two full days due to the wearing of an eye patch. Therefore my goal was unfulfilled. This year however, praise God, I achieved my goal and swam 601,650 yards even though we had two days when all the pools were closed early due to snowstorms. So next year, instead of swimming three times each day Saturdays through Thursdays, and twice on Fridays, I can cut back to twice a day Saturdays through Thursdays, and once on Fridays. I do NOT plan to swim a total of 7 to 9 hours a day. My special thanks to coach Harry Delong for allowing me to do my thing (no butterfly in February), my team mates for their encouraging words, my son Malcolm for his faith in my ability, my church family for their daily prayers, my husband for cooking meals, doing dishes and overlooking the dusty floors and furniture and most of all to my Lord and Savior Jesus Christ for
